Aesop Aromatique Candle

You'll be begging for lockdown once you smell the Aesop Aromatique Candles. They're packaged in simple alabaster ceramic vessels – which you'll want to repurpose for drinks or pencils once the candle has burned down. For the ultimate in relaxation, bag the Callippus one – with its woody, earthy, green tones of vetiver, frankincense and shiso. It's named after the important figure in ancient Greek astronomy who observed the planets and worked with Aristotle —so hearteningly pre-pandemic. And you'll love the inscription inside...

Aesop Aromatique Candle, £80, burn time 55-65 hours.
